Figure 1: Illustration of high-order clustering problem. High-order clustering takes an noisy tensor $\mathcal{Y}$ as an input and outputs the estimation for block means $\hat{\mathcal{S}}$ along with membership matrices $\{\hat{\boldsymbol{M}}_k\}$ on each of the modes.